LIZANNE ENDRES
ANN GIGLIOTTI

The editors' and staff's foremost desire is to congratulate each member of the graduating class of Marple Newtown High School. We sincerely hope that each Senior has many happy and successful years in his ensuing endeavors.

The following pages represent the staff's composite view of the events surrounding our years at Marple-Newtown. We tried to be complete and imaginative in our assessment and presentation in order that the majority of the class may enjoy now and later the fond MEMORIES of its Senior year.

We would also like to extend a special thanks to Mr. Mel Bernett, our faculty advisor, Mrs. Barbara Blinder, our faculty art consultant, and to all those who contributed in their own special way to this '73 edition.

Sincerely,

Ann and Lizanne

The Diary Of Anne Frank

ABOUT THE PLAY

On a warm July day in 1942, an irrespressible thirteen-year-old girl named Anne Frank left the sunshine to live in a few cramped attic rooms above a warehouse in Amsterdam. She did not leave these rooms for over two years. Anne's family was Jewish; like hundreds of others in occupied Holland they went into hiding to escape deportation to Hitler's concentration camps.

Eight people hid in the "Secret Annex," the Franks, the Van Daans, and an old dentist, Mr. Dussel. For twenty-five months eight people's lives were bottled up in those small rooms. From eight in the morning until six at night they dared make no noise that might be heard by the workmen below. Their only contact with the outside world was a couple of Dutch people who daily risked their lives to bring them food and news. The eight tried to live as normally as possible, despite poor food, mounting tensions, and a pervading fear. Day by day Anne recorded their joys and sorrows and her own adolescent dreams in her diary.

Without warning, the Gestapo discovered the "Secret Annex" on August 4, 1944 and arrested the occupants. Anne's diary was overlooked and left in a pile of papers on the floor. The eight were deported to concentration camps, where all except Anne's father died. Anne herself died in Belsen-Bergen just three weeks before the camp was liberated by the Allies.

After the war Otto Frank permitted the Diary to be published. Thus, through the Diary, the voice that was to be silenced speaks on. The child, Anne, died in captivity, but her spirit lives on in freedom.

Line, Witness, And Hostage

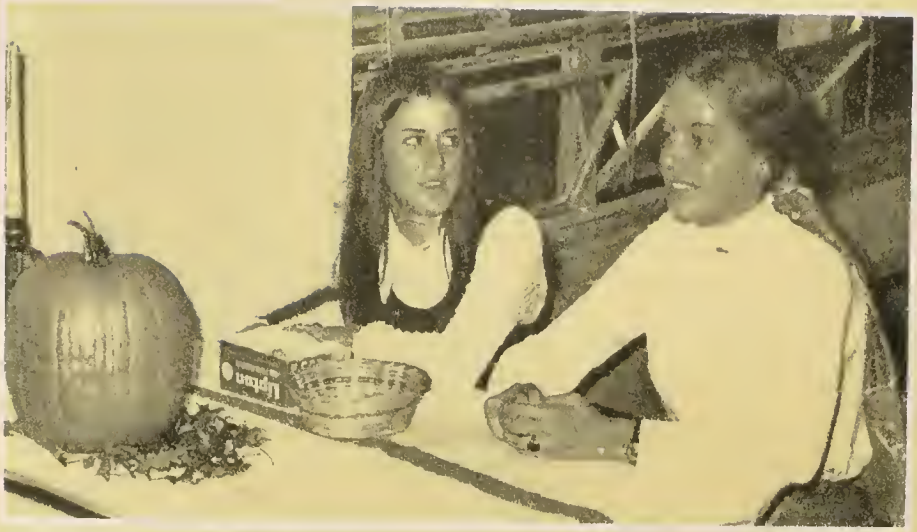

Feb. 9, 1973 was the opening night for three one-act plays, Line, Witness, and Hostage. The most outstanding feature of these plays is that they were both produced and directed by the students, a first in the MN theater. Featured here is a scene from Hostage, directed by Sheila Pearlman. Line was directed by John Ellis, and Neal Stephans directed Witness.

The PYE Club has had another year of successful recycling of glass and paper. A stimulating and informative program for Earth Week was planned and carried out by PYE Club members. The Club actively campaigned for better environmental legislation on state, national and local levels. An environmental education program was initiated which included distribution of books to local libraries and the creation of a speakers bureau. PYE received numerous awards this year including an award from President Nixon, one from the League of Women Voters, and an honorable mention from Keep America Beautiful, Inc . . .

The MN Performance Group is an acting ensemble dedicated to exploring the range of human experience using unconventional theatrical methods. This year, the Performance Group created an original version of Sophocles' Antigone and presented it in an intimate environmental theatre constructed on our stage. The entire group participated in the creation of the script through a series of acting improvisations. Although the play dealt with the events in the last few days in the life of Antigone, the Performance Group's version of the play bore little other resemblance to Sophocles' classic Greek play.

The Performance Group also competed in the Penna. High School Speech League drama competition, a state-wide contest which they won in 1970 and 1971. Antigone went to State Competition at Penn State.

There comes a time in everyone's life, when he knows that no matter what the outcome of the battle, he is truly a winner. For far sweeter than the taste of victory in combat, is the satisfaction of knowing that one has given his very best and given his all for a cause he believes in, in his heart. Everyone on the soccer team has the right to feel this way.

A Winning Record

With stick in hand,
And ball on the ground,
We head to the field together.
The job is rough,
But we're really tough,
We can win it if we stick together.
But we fell apart,
From the very start,
And just couldn't get back together.
From five-two-and one,
To four-three-and one,
We lost the game,
But we won.

Louis Siccardi — Class of 1973
Edward Maffea — Class of 1975

Thru the eyes of youth, the dawn is but a prelude to tomorrow. A mere moment is the day; there to lead the way onto all that still waits to be discovered. Yet, each moment alive holds with it a treasure. Laughing, loving, hurting, hating; all captured by the seconds and held tightly, forever. No particle of life, no single instant of living can be wasted, for the fragility of tomorrow can never be depended upon

So sadly does the future often cut short those precious moments,
so precious and so few

To the Class of 1973:

Marple Newtown Senior High School from which you have graduated is, I believe, one of which you can always be proud. Our dedicated faculty has endeavored to provide an academic climate that would help prepare you to make significant contributions in a very unpredictable world.

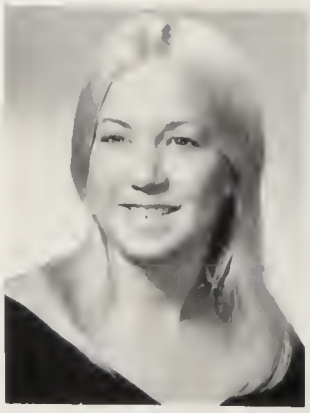

As graduates of our high school, you have responsibilities that should be clearly recognized. Our community, state, and nation have invested in you with the expectation that you will give your primary efforts in making our world a better place in which to live. The extent to which you use your knowledge, skills, attitudes, and understandings obtained at Marple Newtown will measure your effectiveness in making life more interesting, safer, and more beneficial for everyone.

It has been my honor to serve as your principal during your years at Marple Newtown. My best wishes, as well as those of the faculty, go with you as you commence your post-high school endeavors. I am confident you will succeed. Good Luck.

FACULTY FORUM

M-N Counselor Will Attend College Session

Anne Speer, College Liaison Officer for Marple Newtown School District, will attend a meeting sponsored by nine Florida based colleges at the Holiday Inn in Philadelphia.

Counselors throughout the area have been invited to learn more about the program offerings and student life in the Florida schools, according to co-chairman Dixie Rupp of Jacksonville and Carol Esau of Florida Southern Universities.

"We have many students interested in attending schools in Florida," Miss Speer said, "and I feel that the information I receive from the Directors of Admission may aid them in their college choice."

Test Your Knowledge Of Marple Newtown

TEST YOUR KNOWLEDGE OF MARPLE*NEWTDWN

TIME: Three years of high school.

DIRECTIONS: Employing the allotted time, answer the following questions according to your experiences in these aspects of Marple-Newtown High School's system of education and administration.

PART I — THE BELL SYSTEM

Read the following paragraph and answer the questions:

Marple Newtown has provided for each student ten class periods per day of 47 minutes each. This was organized in order to facilitate a day consisting of five majors, four minors and a lunch. (And to get state aid.)

Each of the classes is controlled by three bells and late passes. In between the dismissal bell and the commencement bell of each class, there are four minutes in which each student may get to his locker, his friends, the class, and/or the bathroom. If perchance you overstay the alloted time and you are late to class, you are sent to Mr. Williams' office where you miss the rest of the class waiting in line, are severely reprimanded for losing valuable class time and are assigned a meaningful punishment — your choice of 5 detentions or 10 days in the cafeteria.

There is one other bell at Marple-Newtown. It is the fire alarm bell, which rings at any time courtesy of the administration or the student body. For example, M.N. held one before homeroom, during fourth lunch, in an assembly, and during our tenth grade English exam.

1. Are you confused?
2. Didn't you think that the American tradition of ringing bells signified liberty?

PART II — ASSEMBLIES

1. There aren't any.
2. Your teacher didn't sign up.
3. The second floor goes first, and the first floor goes second, except when you have health or gym, and then you'd go first, provided, of course, that you hadn't forgotten and already changed for gym. And that way you'd never see the assembly cause the first floor and study hall fill up the auditorium and there would be no room in the second assembly and if you changed back to your regular clothes, you would miss too much of the assembly that you should have belonged to in the first place.

PART III — BATHROOMS

1. You blew up the toilet in the bathroom.
2. The pungent odor of burning weeds that often fills the school in the morning comes out of the ventilators.
3. You unrolled the paper towels and found barking lobster stickers on the paper.
4. The bathrooms serve as smoking lounges provided the toilets do not overflow.

PART IV — COURSES

1. Your parents gave you permission slips for sex education.
2. You have a choice of subjects as long as you take all required courses.
3. You make counselling appointments for scheduling, and wait and wait and wait.
4. Girls find schedule changes easy with Mr. Shafer.
5. Each of the courses have a different marking system. For example, Math and Science grade 94-100 as an "A". The English Department grades your themes according to how close your opinions are related to their views. And Mr. Hadavas grades — "A" — hot pants, "B"
6. Boys Room counts as a major.

PART V — CUTTING

1. You cut class because of Yearbook.
2. You write NDW slips and forged passes.
3. You leave school in a car that was parked in a faculty member's parking spot — for a day or two vacation.
4. You are crushed by Mr. Williams' weight.
5. You follow Mr. Shafer's "C", "S" and "FS."
6. You sweat at Mr. Best's accent.
7. You are in school, yet marked absent on the "official publication."
8. Dn your way to the Squire for lunch, you are seen leaving the building with a cigarette in one hand, performing "demonstrative love acts" with the other hand, and the school police don't stop you.

PART VI — CLUBS

1. By the end of our Junior year, M.N. had two candy machines and a soda machine in operative condition, which could be used before and after school. By the end of our Senior year, we had only one candy machine (before it was stolen) which was inoperative.
2. The real "concerned Student" finally stood up.
3 MNBC condones the use of drugs because they played a song by Bob Dylan, "Everybody Must Get Stoned."
4. FCA exists.
5. Homeroom is extended for fifteen minutes so that the students of M.N. may "say it with flowers" on Carnation Day.
6. The Ice Hockey team is a club because Central League rules define the sport as too dangerous for a charter.
7. Student Council has gotten the dress code removed, protested the sending of letters to the parents of student who do not pledge allegiance, flown airplanes, and produced a Bill of Rights which was duly revised.
8. "Graduation will never be held at St. Joe's after the class of '72' as said to the class of '73 while graduating at St. Joe's.

PART VII — FACILITIES

1. The guidance department displays the names of students who have been accepted to college. Except in the case of those students who were accepted to Syracuse. Dnce they were notified, the name of the school disappeared from the show case.
2. The swimming pool is as clean as Darby Creek.
3. The computers never make mistakes and never honor bets.
4. It is the end of your Senior year and you never found your locker.
5. Fourth and sixth lunches include either a hot lunch or a chair.

PART VIII — SPDRTS

1. Your received a fluorescent Booster Jacket.
2. You're on the track team away games only.
3. It's how you played the game.
4. You were dismissed early for a football game not snow.
5. Tennis courts are resurfaced for the summer recreation program, not for the season.
6. Lou who?

PART IX — TESTS

1. You are Wicker, Francis or Francis, Wicker, # 000391317 '73.
2. You sit down for an achievement test that cost $12.00 and can't even read the questions let alone answer them.
3. You are cheating with the answers on your hand the day the teachers check for the fire alarm dye.

PART X — VANDALISM

1. You painted the speed bumps.
2. You think we need ashtrays.
3. You feel guilty when the fire alarm goes off and you are in the print shop.
4. Your locker was searched during the fire drill.
5. You did whitewash the walls.
6. You broke off the back of the uncomfortable chair in the LGI during a skit on how government works.
